YOUNG COUPLE MEET DEATH WHILE SKATING AT WHITEFISH

Miss Grace Robinson and Joseph Cavanaugh
Venture Unwittingly Upon Treacherous Ice
And Are Drowned in Lake.

Miss Grace Robinson and Joseph A. Cavanaugh were drowned in Whitefish lake yesterday afternoon. The young people were skating on the lake, and had been accompanied by Miss Robinson's brother, Percy, until a few moments before the accident occurred. Percy had turned toward home, saying it was nearing dinner time, but the others continued toward the center of the lake, saying they would just go a little further. They skated upon a thin place in the ice, and it broke under them.

Their cries for help were heard by some children a short distance away, but the wind prevented Percy hearing them, and there were no older persons near enough to lend assistance. The children who saw the accident say that Cavanaugh held up Miss Robinson for some time, and that they tried to support themselves by the edge of the ice, but unfortunately instead of turning toward the side where it was thicker, they were on the side where it was scarcely half an inch thick, and it furnished no support. They were soon exhausted in the icy water, and sank.

The children who saw the accident gave the alarm, and in a very short time a large party was attempting to recover the bodies. They were greatly handicapped by the great depth of the water, 300 or 400 feet, and it was three hours before the body of Miss Robinson was brought to the surface. The attempt to recover the other body was abandoned at dark, but was resumed early this morning, and it was recovered at eleven o'clock this forenoon.

Miss Robinson was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Robinson of Whitefish, formerly residents of Kalispell. Grace was about seventeen years of age and was one of the first children born in Kalispell. She was a bright engaging girl and was a student at the county high school, spending the week-end holidays at home with her parents, and expecting to return to Kalispell last evening. The blow of her loss falls heavily on the father, mother and brother.

The funeral services of Miss Robinson will be held at the Episcopal church in Kalispell on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. Cavanaugh was a young man twenty years of age, a clerk in his brother's store and having many friends in his home town.

Both Kalispell and Whitefish unite in the deepest sympathy for the two families in their grief.

OBITUARY OF MRS. P. A. DANN.

After a short illness Mrs. P. A. Dann, well known in the city of Kalispell, died Thursday morning, Sept. 7th. Mrs. Dann was 87 years old at the time of her death which was hastened by a severe fall a few weeks ago. She was born in New Hampshire April 3rd, 1824, and has thus lived a long and useful life. She came to Great Falls, Montana, with her family about 22 years ago and from there moved to Kalispell where she has resided for the past 11 years. She is survived by Dr. E. F. Dann, Clark, S. D., Mrs. F. L. Holbrook, Huron, S. D., George V. Dann, Wisconsin, and Miss Adele J. Dann, of this city. Mrs. Dann was a Daughter of the American Revolution and her life thus touches the history of our country almost from the very first. She lived through three wars of her country, the Mexican, Civil and Spanish American. Is it any wonder we find her of strong character and vigorous purpose and high ideals? She was for sixty years a "suffragist" and a member of the American Suffragist Association. She was well acquainted with Francis E. Willard, and knew personally such workers as Dr. Anna Shaw, Mrs. Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, and many others who have stood in the front ranks for equal suffrage. At her death she was engaged in organizing a suffragist movement in Kalispell. To meet her was to be enthused with her ideas. She did not spend time in idle chatting but always brought her hearers' attention to the noble ideals for which she was striving. We are just beginning to realize that a strong personality has passed from us. Mrs. Dann mourned to the very last the indifference of the present generation along the lines of social reformation and temperance. Thus has gone from us one of those rare characters—one of the few such in the earlier history of our country and even today who have the vision and the courage to attempt to realize it. Such was Mrs. Dann and in reviewing her life we also review the greater part of the history of our beloved country for she grew with its noble institutions from the beginning and at her death was among the foremost to stand for those great ideals equal suffrage and the abolishment of the saloon, which shall come to pass hereafter.

MRS. T. A. DANN.

Mrs. T. A. Dann passed away this morning at half past eight o'clock at the Sisters hospital. She had been ill for some time and a few weeks ago fell, breaking her hip. Since then she had been failing in strength. Mrs. Dann was a Daughter of the Revolution and an old time resident of Kalispell. The funeral will be held on Saturday at two o'clock at the home on Eighth avenue east north.

LELIA GRANT.

Lelia Grant, the fourteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Grant, died this morning, of spinal meningitis, after an illness of less than twenty-four hours. She had been a student in the eighth grade, and was working hard to complete her graded school work by Christmas. To this overwork is attributed the cause of her death by the visiting physician.

For the past week she had been complaining of a severe headache, and yesterday morning was too ill to go to Sunday school. At two o'clock yesterday afternoon she became unconscious, and remained in that state until her death early this morning.

Her mother is out of town, and was reached by wire last evening at Deer Lodge. She will arrive this evening. No arrangements for the funeral have been made, or will be until after Mrs. Grant arrives. She was the only child.

DEATH OF MRS. BLACHLEY.

Mrs. Lucy J. Blachley passed away Saturday evening after an illness extending over two years. The funeral was held this afternoon at half past two o'clock at the Presbyterian church, Rev. T. A. ELIZABETH C. ALBRITTON.

Elizabeth C. Albritton, who passed away Sunday morning, October 15th, was born in Tennessee, near Paris, January 20, 1836. However, she always claimed Kentucky as her home state, having lived with her parents, Isaac and Sarah Allbritton, near Paducah on the "old homestead" from the time she was five years old until she was married, in 1859, to J. C. Albritton. They continued to live near there until 1875, when they moved to Arkansas, where they lived until 1890, when they moved to the Flathead. She leaves five children: Mrs. Jesse Yenne, of Bigfork, Mrs. A. J. King, Mrs. Ira E. Sanford and Hosea Albritton, of Kalispell, and Mrs. W. W. Hughes of Omaha, Neb. She was buried in the Conrad Memorial cemetery Monday morning, October 16th.

Her life was characterized by habits that go to make the best of people; she lived a life of devotion and self-sacrifice to her family, and kindness to the world.

JOHN C. SULLIVAN.

The many Kalispell friends of John C. Sullivan were shocked to learn today of his death at his home, near Rexford. Death came suddenly this morning, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Sullivan was for years a resident of the valley, owning and farming a ranch across the river near Fairview. About four years ago he moved to another ranch on the banks of the Kootenai river a short distance from Rexford, and made his home there until his demise. He leaves a widow and several children. No arrangements have been made for his funeral, but it is probable that burial will be in this valley.

Mrs. George Ball, of Vega station, five miles from here, was accidentally shot and killed last night by her seven year old daughter who was trying to shield her from an attack by the girl's father. Ball and the girl, who is wild with grief today, are being held to await the action of the coroner. According to local officials, Ball returned home in a drunken condition last night, abusing his wife, when the little girl interfered. The pistol she held was discharged twice, one of the bullets entering above the heart.

WATSON L. CURTIS.

Watson L. Curtis passed away at the Sisters Hospital last evening at 5:50 following an operation. Mr. Curtis had been ill but a short time. The cause seemed puzzling to the physicians and an operation was deemed necessary. It was found that he was suffering from blood clots at the base of the brain. Deceased was born in Frenchtown, N. J., and was 37 years of age. He resided in Pennsylvania until three years ago when he came to Kallispell. His wife, who lives here, his mother and three sisters who live in Pennsylvania, survive him. Mr. Curtis was employed at the Montana meat market until the time of his illness and was highly esteemed by his employers and all who knew him. His bereaved wife and family have the heartfelt sympathy of all.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Cora Fiske was born in Massillon, Stark county, Ohio, where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yunck, until her marriage to Edgar A. Fiske, of Brooklyn, October 23, 18889. She lived in Brooklyn until her husband's death. She and her children then came west to Cut Bank, Montana, with her father and mother. About four years ago Mrs. Fiske moved to Kallispell where she won the respect and esteem of all who knew her by her quiet womanly ways. Mrs. Fiske was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city, uniting with the church by letter about a year ago. She was also a member of the Maccabees. She leaves to mourn her death three children, John, Edgar and Helen, who is a student in the high school. She also leaves to survive her heart broken father and mother, two brothers and a sister, all of whom were present at the funeral. She was a silent but intense sufferer for the past year or more, going east for an operation which was hoped would be successful. Her mother was by her side in her last moments and read to her from the testament which she had not forgotten to take with her. And so loving hands have helped to lay away what was her earthly tabernacle of clay. She is not here—she has risen. She could say in the worlds of that dear hymn,
"When I rise to world's unknown,
See Thee on thy judgment throne,
Rock of Ages cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

CARD OF THANKS.

We are very grateful to our neighbors and friends who assisted us in the time of our bereavement and death of our beloved daughter, sister and mother, Cora C. Fisk.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yunck and family.
