OBITUARY.

David Byers Barber passed away at his home in Kalispell, Montana, October 19, 1915, at 5 o'clock a. m., yielding to an attack of meningitis of six days' duration.

The funeral was held on October 22, at 2:30 o'clock from the Episcopal church, B. P. O. E., No. 725, attended the services in a body, acting as a guard of honor to the corpse of their departed brother. Beautiful floral offerings from Duluth, Superior, Minneapolis, Great Falls and Kalispell literally banked the altar and coffin. The church was crowded to the doors, many friends of the deceased being unable to get inside. Interment was made in Conrad Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Barber was born at Marietta, Ohio, April 19, 1860, and as a boy moved with his parents to Saginaw, Michigan. On October 11, 1883, at Saginaw, he was united in marriage to Marian A. Dunbar, who survives him. An only daughter, Elizabeth Barber Eakins, died in September, 1914. A grandson, Arthur Eakins, survives him.

Mr. Barber combined a strong social tendency with earnest and aggressive business ability and these two impulses largely dominated his life. Up to his last hour his interest went first of all to family and friends, and secondly to business matters. The largest number of his friends and acquaintances are in the lumber business, but outside of lumber circles, he had a large acquaintance from Duluth to Seattle, and many indeed, in that large area will learn with profound regret that "Dave" Barber has gone beyond. His predilection for the lumber business was inherited from his father whose record as a member of the firm of Chapin & Barber of Bay City, Michigan, and later as a member of Peyton, Kimball & Barber of Duluth, is still a cherished memory among those of the old time lumber and business men of Michigan and Minnesota who still survive and still recall the sterling character and aggressive personality of L. A. Barber.

Beginning while very young, with his father's firm, on the lower rungs of the ladder, he won his way through forty years of business activity to places of great trust and responsibility, and the whole record is of work well done and trusts faithfully executed. As an employe he served with Chapin & Barber, Peyton, Kimball & Barber, C. J. & D. N. Winton of the Thief River Lumber company, until January 1, 1904, at which time he moved to Kalispell and joined C. I. O'Neil and Edwin Gale, as part owner and manager of the Northwestern Lumber company. After a year his former employers, the Wintons, with George McCrea and C. L. Dobner purchased the O'Neil and Gale interests in the Northwestern, Mr. Barber continuing as manager until December 27, 1909, when he sold his interests in the company and joined with F. H. Stolze, of Minneapolis, in purchasing the State Lumber company of Columbia Falls, of which Mr. Barber took full charge. To this concern he gave all his time and attention until July 16, 1914. On that date he disposed of his interests to his associate, Mr. Stolze.

Since then family affairs have claimed his time, some of which was spent in California, although the family home has remained continuously in Kalispell. He had by no means given up active business and still expected to re-enter his old field of work in the near future when death claimed him.

Mr. Barber was a member of the Elks and had served as Exalted Ruler in the Duluth lodge. He had always maintained his membership in the order and was an active member of the Kalispell lodge.

Because he was loving and affectionate toward all who were close to him, because he was loyal to all trusts reposed in him; because he gave all of his best to both of them, his life fairly classes with the type of American manhood which is our standard.

HUMPHREY HAINES SMITH.

Humphrey Haines Smith, a resident of the valley for the last 15 years, died Sunday at the Sisters' hospital. His death was due to blood poisoning caused by a needle which he ran into his foot nearly two months ago. Little thought was given to the accident at the time but it became acute two weeks ago and despite the best of care resulted in his death Sunday night.

Mr. Smith was born in Mallon county, Ireland, March 16, 1863, and came to this country in 1881. He took up a homestead as soon as he became of age, in Grant County, Minnesota, where he lived until 1889, when he went back to Ireland. He made two later trips to the old home and just prior to his return, married Mary E. Whitelegg, and they made their home near Herman, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Smith came to Kalispell in the spring of 1901, and have made this their home since that time. Mrs. Smith died two weeks ago and the shock was largely responsible for his death. There are six children in the family, Humphrey, Eileen, William, Richard and Philip, all of whom were living at home and Kathleen, who is living with an uncle and aunt in England. Funeral services will be held tomorrow from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Stancliffe officiating, and burial will be made in the Conrad cemetery.

ERNEST WALCHLI SUCCUMBS
AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS.

The funeral of Ernest Walchli, who died Friday afternoon, January 29, was held at the Presbyterian church at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. Rev. George McVey Fisher officiating. The funeral, which was one of the largest held in this city, was held under the auspices of the Odd Fellows lodge and the Spanish-American war veterans, to both of which Mr. Walchli belonged. Both the veterans and the Odd Fellows gathered at the Wagner chapel at 2 o'clock and escorted the body to the church, and after the services from the church to the cemetery where the services were conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge, the veterans firing the last salute.

Mr. Walchli was born in Berne, Switzerland thirty-six years ago, and came to this country with his brothers, sister and mother, settling in Iowa, in 1888. A few years later the mother died, and the children came to Kalispell where they were reared by their uncle, A. R. Zimmerman. Mr. Walchli was one of the first men in the paid fire department of the city, going from there to the Northern Idaho & Montana Power company, by whom he was employed as an expert trouble man for the past fourteen years. During the Spanish-American war he enlisted with the 35th U. S. volunteers, and served in the Philippines. The vast assemblage of friends which gathered to pay the last tribute to his memory spoke eloquently of the high esteem in which he is held in the community which has been his home since boyhood.

While in the Philippines Mr. Walchli was stricken with typhoid malaria, which came very near proving fatal. Upon his return he recovered partially but it is believed that his system was weakened, and several months ago he had another attack of typhoid which left him with a weakened heart from which he was unable to rally. He is survived by a wife, stepdaughter, four brothers, Hans, Fred and Paul of this city, Robert of Portland, Oregon, and one sister, Caroline of Kalispell.

OBITUARY.

He was loved by all who knew him and he leaves to mourn his loss his father and mother and a host of relatives and friends.

I have a little angel waiting for me,
On the beautiful banks of the Crystal sea.
When my weary heart is throbbing
with pain,
I fain would clasp my darling again.
I'll look away from this earthly stand,
To the beautiful fields of a better
land;
I will think of the angel waiting there,
And offer to God a thankful prayer.

SARAH M. WOOD.

(Contributed.)

The funeral of Sarah M. Wood occurred Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 at the Baptist church, services being conducted by Rev. E. H. Clark, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Geo. Heizer of the Methodist church. The words spoken by the reverend gentlemen over the body of this aged mother, on her exemplary life, will long be remembered by the friends and neighbors who came to pay their last respects to one whom to know was to love. One of her expressions was: "Give me flowers now, not when I have gone away." Her room generally was supplied with flowers, placed there by her friends, her grandchildren, her son and his wife. Her grave was covered with flowers placed there by friends that had supplied them while she was still with us.

She had been shut in and a great sufferer for a long time, but always had a smile and welcome for all. After a short illness with pneumonia, she passed away at 10 o'clock Monday night, at the ripe old age of 85 years. Born in New York. Her father, Lawrence R. Vosburg, came from Holland. Her mother, Lydia A. Van Schoick, was a cousin of President Van Buren. She was married to Francis M. Freeman, who served in the Mexican war and Rebellion but the government never allowed her any pension. She had three sons, Harrop Freeman, who died at Richmond, Mich., Lawrence R. Freeman, who died at Charlotte, Mich., and Glenn S. Freeman, of Kalispell, the only son living, with whom she has made her home for years. Many years after the death of Francis M. Freeman she married Dr. Wilson N. Wood of Laypage, Ohio. She was laid to rest in Conrad cemetery.
