

FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO MRS. JOHN H. FOY

Throngs of friends among whom were seen many old-timers of the valley gathered in the Presbyterian church Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. to pay their last respects to Mrs. Nancy J. Foy, wife of John H. Foy, and one of the earliest Flathead residents.

Rev. G. M. Fisher, pioneer minister, preached the funeral sermon, and a quartet composed of Messrs. Dunsire and T. H. MacDonald, and Misses. Watchli and Chester, sang beautiful hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Fisher.

The floral tributes were many and cars were chiefly donated by those who had known the Foy's since Demersville days.

The bearers were members of the Knights of Pythias lodge, several of them also old-timers. They were G. B. Edwards, J. H. C. Fitch, F. G. Cole, Arthur Aylesworth, Eric Milton and Sam Hilburn.

Interment was made in Demersville cemetery where both Mrs.

Foy's and her husband's people are buried.

Nancy J. Gregg, the third child of William H. and Achsah Gregg, was born at Oaktown, Sullivan county, Indiana, October 11, 1860, being one of seven children. Her father, Lieutenant Gregg, after serving four years during the Civil war, was invalided home by reason of a wound from the explosion of a shell, and after his recovery the family moved to Kansas, residing near Cedardale until the year 1878, when they moved to Erskine's Bridges, Gallatin county, Territory of Montana.

On March 27, 1879 she was united in marriage to John H. Foy, at Bozeman, and moved to Salesville with her husband, living there until September, 1883, when they moved to the Flathead valley. They arrived here September 26, 1883, and took up land at what is now known as Foy's Bend on the Flathead river. Here they resided until the year 1902, when they moved to Foy's lake. They lived there until November, 1922, at which time they removed to Kallispell.

Three children were born to Mr.

and Mrs. Foy, only one of whom, a son, Gordon, is living, at Olympia, Washington.

Mrs. Foy's life was an active one, busy with her own duties and with the welfare of those in her neighborhood. Many in the valley have been saddened by her going.

Besides her husband and son, she is survived by a grandson; one brother, O. P. Gregg, three sisters, Mrs. C. W. Berry, Mrs. J. T. Hill and Mrs. William Parent.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends, who helped us in our recent bereavement, especially the Brother Knights of Pythias, who acted as pall bearers, Rev. Fisher and the choir, also the kind friends whose cars and services were at our disposal.

JOHN H. FOY,
MR. and MRS. G. B. FOY.
