CAROLINE E. CONRAD

By Sidney M. Lozan

Caroline Greene was born at Matteawan, New York, October 23, 1873, and passed on at Kalispell, Sunday, December 3, 1933. She is survived by her daughter, Margaret, wife of Lowell Parker of Kalispell; a brother, Everett Greene of Brooklyn, New York; and James Greene, of Vancouver, B. C. She was a resident of Kalispell, 35 years.

On June 26, 1895, she was married to Warren Ashby Conrad, one of Kalispell's best-loved and most lovable citizens, a member of a distinguished family, the names of whose members are linked with the early history and development of Montana, whose death a few years ago was deeply mourned by this community. Her coming to Kalispell and her marriage had a touch of romance. In the summer of 1893, she had been visiting her brother, the late General Henry Greene, at the time commanding officer at Fort Assiniboine, Montana, and in the spring of 1894 was on her way west to visit another brother in Seattle. The train on which she was travelling was caught by a railroad strike and was tied up at Kalispell indefinitely. It was two or three weeks before another train moved into or out of the city. General Greene, being acquainted with Ashby Conrad, wired him a request to make provision for his sister's care and comfort during her extended stay. Miss Greene was a beautiful and attractive girl and her meeting with Ashby Conrad was followed by her marriage to him on June 26, 1895 at her home in Matteawan, New York. Since that time she had resided continuously in this city.

Her youthful charm never left her but matured and ripened here in a beautiful home, set in a beautiful environment among friends who loved her for her qualities of heart and mind. She was a devout Christian, of a charming personality, kind, charitable and considerate of all with whom she came in contact. It is doubtful if any person, even her closest friends, ever heard from her lips a bitter word or caustic criticism of another person or a complaint of any adversity or ill fortune that might have come to her. Brave and cheerful under all conditions; charitable and sweetly kind to others, her example was an inspiration, her life a benediction. To all the fine qualities of her heart, there was added a keen, cultured and brilliant mind. Highly educated, a graduate of one of the leading institutes of New York she would have adorned the best of any society of any place or any age. During the 38 years of her life in Kalispell, she gathered to herself a world of friends and the city has never sustained a loss which it mourns more deeply, sincerely and universally, than it does the passing of Caroline E. Conrad.

TWO MEET DEATH AND THREE ARE HURT WHEN TRUCK LEAVES HIGHWAY

LOUISE CULLOYAH AND MICHEL KIZER, INDIANS FROM FLATHEAD RESERVATION, DIE AS TRUCK TAKES 10-
FOOT DIVE — ACCIDENT OCCURS ON HIGHWAY NO. 2
NEAR COLUMBIA FALLS

Louise Cullooyah, 65, and Michel Kizer, 55, Indians from the Flathead reservation, were instantly killed about 4:30 yesterday afternoon on Highway No. 2 near Columbia Falls when the truck in which they were riding plunged over a 10-foot embankment. Three other Indians, Mary Kizer, wife of Michel, Sophia Moeise and Michel Small Salmon, were seriously injured and were removed to the Sisters' Hospital. About 20 Indians were riding in the truck driven by Leslie Ryan, 26, a member of the C. C. C. camp at Apgar, this truck being one of three transporting 60 Indians to Logan Pass to take part in the dedication of the Going-to-the-Sun Highway today.

The accident occurred when Ryan, an experienced truck driver, went to sleep at the wheel, according to testimony at the inquest held at the J. O. Wiles farm home last night. Ryan, it developed, had been on duty all day Thursday at light work and volunteered his services, as he had made several trips to Kalispell and was well acquainted with the road. He left in a brand new Chevrolet truck from Belton between 7:30 and 8 o'clock arriving at Arlee about 5 a. m., Friday. With only two short naps between 5 and 7 o'clock he started back about 9:30 picking up several Indians on the way, driving 25 miles per hour and 30 when approaching grades according to testimony. Ryan said that he became sleepy during the morning but felt considerably refreshed after eating lunch but just before the accident he must have dozed momentarily. He was awakened by the noise of the wheels entering loose gravel when the accident occurred and endeavored to straighten the wheels but the loose gravel forced the truck over the bank. Ryan and Mrs. Granjo and daughter who were in the front seat with him, suffered only a few minor injuries.

Continued- Cullooyah

Coroner Campbell, who was called to the accident about 5 o'clock yesterday, stated that both of the victims were pinned underneath the truck and met instant death from skull fractures. Michel Kizer also having a broken neck. A report from the hospital today stated that although seriously injured, the three at the hospital are expected to live. One suffered severe lacerations about the scalp and another had undetermined back injuries.

Inquest Is Held

At the inquest held in the front yard of the J. O. Wiles home, conducted by Gordon Roganien, deputy county attorney, Lieutenant Reed, who had charge of Leslie Ryan at camp headquarters, was the first witness called. He testified not only as to the fitness of Ryan as an automobile driver, but also of his dependability in any capacity. Reed said that Ryan had driven a truck to KallsPELL on several occasions and was well acquainted with the road. Ryan, he said, had left early in the evening after a light day's work in a brand new Chevrolet truck, and was told he could drive 25 miles per hour and not over 30. Reed also testified to telling Ryan to be careful before leaving.

Charles E. Coe, Indian agent from Dixon, Montana, who is in charge of the Indians, testified that three Park Service trucks arrived at Arlee early Friday morning and secured 60 Indians divided between three trucks, leaving about 9:30. He said he was not a witness to the accident.

Dr. W. S. Kell of Columbia Falls was called next and testified of being called to the scene of the accident and administering first aid to five Indians who were sent to the KallsPELL hospital and also to the skull fractures and other injuries causing the death of two of the Indians.

J. O. Wiles, a farmer, who was working in the field about 200 yards from the road with his back turned, testified to hearing the car coming, and of turning around just as the car struck loose gravel and went over the embankment, turning upside down. He said that when he arrived there he found that two Indians were dead. Mr. Wiles also gave a detailed report of the condition of the road at that point, saying the road went up a gradual slope to the east across a low place with about a 10-foot embankment on both sides. The road, he said, is wide enough for two cars to pass on the grade, but it was worn considerably, with ridges of loose gravel between the wheel tracks and each edge of the road.

Coroner Campbell took the stand and corroborated the testimony of Dr. Kell and also Mr. Wiles' testimony in regard to road conditions.

Leslie Ryan, driver of the truck, voluntarily testified to his experience as a truck driver, both as to transit work and logging operations. He said he was holder of a truck license for New York State, good until May 31, 1934, had made several trips to KallsPELL and was well acquainted with the road. Ryan further testified to having worked all day Thursday at his regular duties, which were light, and that on Thurs-
