HORN, CINDIE

A 3-year-old girl drowned Friday morning in a small creek running behind her home west of Whitefish.

Cindie Horn, daughter of Randy and Laura Horn, was playing in the back yard of her home at 3195 W. Valley Drive with her five-year-old brother Keith, said Flathead County Sheriff Al Rierson.

It is believed the two children were playing in the snow along the creek when Cindie slipped into the stream about 9 a.m., he said.

Keith attempted to save his sister before calling his father who pulled the girl from under the ice covering of the creek.

HORN, Cindie, 3, 3195 West Valley Drive, died Friday. Funeral services 2 p.m. Monday in Johnson Chapel. Burial in Conrad Memorial Cemetery.

The father told sheriff's deputies that the girl had a bump on her head, possibly from hitting the ice.

A neighbor, Bonnie Ingham, was summoned and arrived 15 minutes after the accident to begin cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), Rierson said.

CPR was continued by the Kalispell ambulance crew which transported the girl to Kalispell Regional Hospital. Resuscitation efforts were continued for about an hour before the victim was pronounced dead at 10:58 a.m., Rierson said.

Cindie was born Dec. 23, 1974, in Kalispell and was baptized into the Lutheran Faith.

She is survived by her parents; two brothers, Chad and Keith all at home; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Horn of Whitefish and Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington of Kalispell.

Services for Cindie Lee will be conducted in the Johnson Chapel at 2 p.m. Monday with the Rev. John Rieth, pastor of the Stillwater Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Conrad Memorial Cemetery. She will lie in state for visitation.

LESTER ETHAN HUNTINGTON

Lester Ethan Huntington, age 70, a resident of Trego, died in St. Patrick's Hospital in Missoula, Sunday. Mr. Huntington was born May 7, 1908 in Packwood, Washington, a son of Clark and Lillian Huntington. He received his schooling in Packwood and traveled on tunnel construction and supervision throughout the world. Les's career in construction began at the age of 16. His enthusiasm and love for the tunnel business continued for a lifetime. Les was a self-educated man. His formal education consisted of a 6th grade education. Yet, through perseverance and much hard work he attained the position of vice president for Walsh Construction Co. for whom he worked 25 years. His last assignment with Walsh Construction Co. was as project manager on the Walsh-Groves joint venture project, the Flathead Tunnel, which is the second longest railroad tunnel in the U.S. After retirement from Walsh, he accepted an assignment on a particularly difficult construction job with S. J. Groves and completed his construction career retiring as vice president in 1973. During his last years in construction he was summoned as a consultant to other areas of the world. He was well known throughout the industry as one of the world's tunnel experts. He was one of the few recipients of two of the highest awards offered by the construction industry, the Golden Beaver Award for Supervision in 1966, and the Moles Award in 1970. But, even more important than his notable achievements and awards was the fact that Les never lost his humility or concern for other people. Les loved the simple things in life, music, poetry, the outdoors, but most of all he loved people. He always saw the good side of his fellow man and devoted a life time to helping others. He was loved and admired by those who knew him. Les left lasting impressions on those with whom he associated.

He was married to Edna Steph, February 21, 1933 at Las Vegas, Nevada, to which union two sons and one daughter were born. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, order of the Scottish Rite, Stockton, CA. He is survived by his widow, Edna, at the family home in Trego; one son Floyd Thomas Huntington, Chehalis, WA; one daughter, Mrs. Clair "Patricia" Jensen, Kalispell, and 7 grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a son, Ethan Allen, November 8, 1957. Funeral services for Mr. Huntington were conducted from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Church in Kalispell, on Wednesday, with Bishop Richard Burningham officiating. Following the funeral service the body was forwarded to Packwood, Washington for final interment. Arrangements are in charge of the Astor Funeral Home. Honorary pallbearers were Jay Bird, Jess Blakley, Bill Pucek, Richard Ray, Richard S. Schwyn and Ernest Stillwell. Casketbearers were Arche Burk, John Cloud, Kenneth Gwynn, Floyd Henley, Jerry Osler and Hans Sacrison.
