He moved to Kalispell where he was employed with Kalispell Feed and Grain until it burned in 1946, at which time he moved to Bozeman. In 1947, he bought the franchise and built the Kalispell Feed and Grain which he operated until his retirement.

He was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church; Kalispell Elks Lodge; Kalispell Rotary Club; past president of the Chamber of Commerce; served on the city council for six years; was mayor of Denton for nine years; a member of the Agriculture Committee of Flathead County for several years; and served on the Flathead County Fair Board for 30 years and as chairman of the board for several years.

He married Veronica Joyce Nov. 23, 1932, in Forsyth and is survived by her at the family home. He is also survived by a son, Keith Gustin of Whitefish; a sister, May Hunter of Denton; and one grandchild.

Rosary will be recited in the Johnson Chapel at 7 tonight. Mass of the Resurrection will be 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in St. Matthew's Catholic Church with the Rev. Emmett O'Neill as celebrant. Burial will be in Glacier Memorial Gardens.

The family suggests memorials be made in the form of masses or memorials to the St. Matthew's Church building fund.
