KATHERINE FITZGERALD

Katherine is one of the twin daughters of Charles and Minnie Strausburg, pioneer homesteaders in the Flathead Valley. They chose the beautiful area of Creston, where Katherine and her sisters and brothers were all born and raised. Katherine married Harry A. Fitzgerald, from Pennsylvania, and they raised 2 daughters on the same home place, Juanita Barnard, of Creston, and Bernice Dunham, of Columbia Falls. Creston School has been the education site of 4 generations: Katherine, her 2 daughters, 2 grandchildren and 1 great-grandson. The old Creston homestead is still in the family. Katherine spent many hours on the old farm from girlhood until recently when ill health placed her in Immanuel Home, Oct. 28, 1980. She has lived at Whitefish Extended Care and Bigfork Convalescent Center also. Raising sheep was her great interest, along with a vegetable garden that was the pride of the community. She was a fine seamstress and loved to braid and hook rugs.

Gerald Bryan Floyd

JERRY FLOYD

Gerald (Jerry) Bryan Floyd, 31, died Aug. 12 at City of Hope in Duarte, Calif. Graveside rites were observed at Lawndale Cemetery in Opheim Aug. 16, with Pastor Mike Brown of Twin Peaks Community Church in California officiating.

Soloists at the outdoor service were Jubilant Sykes of Santa Monica, Calif., who sang "Amazing Grace" and other hymns, and Susan Overcast of Virginia, a niece, who sang "We Shall Behold Him."

The service was held at sunset.

A son of Ken and Babe Floyd, Mr. Floyd was born Aug. 10, 1953 and he grew up on the ranch at Tango west of Opheim. He attended high school in Opheim where he and Bunny Bishop began dating. He worked at the Richland Farm Supply, and he enjoyed cruising in his '58 Ford and working on motorcycles. After graduating from high school in 1971, he left the ranch, sold his cows and enrolled at Billings Automotive Training Center. After graduating from the center, he sold the old motorcycles he had restored in high school so he and Bunny could go to California where they were married July 27, 1974.

The couple lived in North Hollywood where he was employed at Two Brothers Automotive and began his association with foreign cars which was to become his career. He was involved with the Riverside Raceway and began to follow his father's interest and talent in restoring cars.

Later, the couple moved to Canoga Park where he began working on specialty cars. He was hired to design and build for Moselle Coachworks. In 1981, the couple purchased a home in the hills overlooking Simi Valley where he planned to build cars on a half acre at the same site. In the meantime, he set up his own shop in Simi Valley where he built the M.P. Lafer cars imported from Brazil.

In May, 1983, he was diagnosed as having acute leukemia. He was admitted to the City of Hope Medical Research Institute where he received the most aggressive chemotherapy treatments. He inspired and amazed all who knew him for his spirit and strength. Dr. Steven Forman called Mr. Floyd his hero, a very special patient who could always find a bright spot regardless of dispiriting test results.

In the spring of 1984, the couple moved to Crestline, Calif., where he worked on rebuilding the 1968 Fiat Spyder that he had originally built for his wife. In June, the couple came home for a reunion with friends and family.

Survivors include the widow, his parents, Ken and Babe Floyd of Opheim, brothers, Mike of Wenatchee, Wash., and Len of Denver; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thievin of Richland.

A brother, Danny, died in 1978.

HELEN C. FRANTA

Helen Cowan Franta was born December 20, 1900, in Havre, Mt.

and made here home there until 1982. Her father was a rancher and one of the original directors of the Montana National Bank, which is now part of the First Bank System. Helen was the second of four children. She attended Havre High School and in 1920 attended the Twin City Business College, in St. Paul, Minnesota. She worked in the Hill County Clerk & Records Office for 11 years. On May 2, 1926, she married Frank J. Franta, who had been sent from Minnesota to help stabilize the bank during a time when many banks were having to close due to crop failures and poor economic times. Frank was a World War I veteran. In the 1930's, he opened the Franta Agency which started as a collection service and developed into a general insurance business. In 1933, Helen went to work at the Franta Agency. In the 1940's, Helen's brother, Frank Cowan, joined their household. He had recently returned from serving in World War II. Frank was an electrician and Helen says he was a welcome addition in part because he could "fix anything". Helen sold the Franta Agency after Frank's death May 22, 1959. The Frantas had started spending winters in Arizona - Phoenix and Mesa in the mid-1950's and Frank died in Mesa. Helen continued to spend winters in the southwest with three women friends until 1966. Her brother, Frank, died in 1977. Helen's interests include bowling, golf, music and knitting. She has been a member of the Hill County Country Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Catholic Altar Society. Helen moved to Immanuel December 9, 1983. She had been staying with her sister, Mrs. Lenore Tri, in Kalispell, since July of 1982.
