

Died 4 Mar 1984 ADOLPH ZIESMER

Adolph Ziesmer was born May 4, 1889, in Princeton, Minn. Both of his parents were born in Germany. Adolph was one of 10 children in a farming family. As a young man he worked in a candy factory, in a factory where wooden buckets were made and in a fur factory. After his marriage to Gladys Daugherty in 1911, he ran a street car in Minneapolis/St. Paul. He farmed and drove a school bus which he built himself. After moving to south-central Montana in the early 1930's, he farmed, raised cattle and had two rural mail routes for 12 years. Adolph and Gladys had 10 children: Stanley now lives in Seattle; Dorothy Miller is in White Cloud, Minn.; Viola Ziegler lives in Vallejo, Calif.; Fern Zeismer is in San Rafael, Calif.; Robert lives in Noselle, Wash.; William lives in Winlock, Wash. Gladys died in 1934 when William was two years old. In 1936, Adolph married Hilda Peterson. They had two children: Richard now lives in Puyallup, Wash. and Betty Jane lives in Idaho Falls. In the 1940's Adolph farmed in Eureka and moved to the Kalispell area where he helped to log the site of the Hungry Horse Dam. In 1954 he married Selma Gilder. Selma had eight children -- some of them
