James Lowell Eckelberry, 90

James Lowell Eckelberry, 90, of Kalispell, died in the Brendan House on Monday evening, May 9, 1994.

He was born May 8, 1904, on their farm on Fairview to John and Elizabeth (Freese) Eckelberry. At the age of 13, he did most of the farming as his father had heart trouble.

On March 26, 1927, he was married to Pearl Swisher in Kalispell. Jim spent his entire life living and working in the Flathead Valley, although he enjoyed traveling to Arizona for several winters for health reasons.

He and Pearl were longtime members of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Columbia Falls and his strong faith in God carried him through many bad times.

In later years he dearly loved listening to music; he especially loved hymns.

He was preceded in death by a grandson, James McKinley.

Survivors include his wife, Pearl at the Brendan House in Kalispell; three daughters and their husbands, Thelma and Bill McKinley of Florence, Norma and Dave Johnson of Kalispell and Joyce and Erwin Kloock of Bigfork; six grandchildren, Corey Johnson of Boise, Idaho, Tami McKinley Larson of Spokane, Wash., Idonna Kloock Harke of Keller, Texas, Vickie Ayala and Jody McKinley of Missoula and Delbert Kloock of Kalispell; 14 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild; and numerous other relatives including his brother's children, Winona Eckelberry Burns and Lowell Eckelberry, whom he called his "second family."

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Columbia Falls. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the church for visitation from 1-2 p.m. on Saturday.

The family suggest memorials may be made to the charity of the donor's choice.

Arrangements are under the direction of Johnson Mortuary.

James Donald Eff, 80

James Donald Eff, 80, died at Immanuel Lutheran Home Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1994.

He was born Jan. 9, 1914, in Richfield Township, Lucas County, Ohio, to Otto and Edna Taylor Eff. He graduated from high school in Ohio, where he played varsity basketball, baseball, and football.

In his early years, he developed interests in hobbies that spanned a lifetime, including hunting, fishing and collecting coins and butterflies. His first butterfly collection was lost in a house fire but he rebuilt it into one of the finest collections in the country. It currently is on display at the University of Colorado. He co-authored the first book about butterflies of the Rocky Mountain region, published by the Denver Museum of Natural History.

On April 11, 1941, he married Mary Jane Reid in Sylvania, Ohio. He entered the navy in Nov., 1942, and was honorably discharged in Bremerton, Wash., in Nov., 1945. The family settled in Boulder, Colo., where he worked for the post office until retiring as superintendent of mails in 1972.

He was a member of Mountain View Methodist Church in Boulder, the Lepidopterist Society and past president of the Seelye Genealogical Society.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Mary Jane, on March 8, 1977, and by a sister.

Survivors include a son and his wife, Jim and Kathy Eff and three grandsons, Ryan, Craig, and Andrew Eff, all at the family home in Kalispell, and a special friend, Nancy Rank, of Boulder.

Services will be held at the Howe Mortuary Chapel in Boulder on Monday at 2 p.m. Arrangements are by Johnson Mortuary.

Derrick Scott Ehmann, 10

Derrick Scott Ehmann, 10, of Libby, died Saturday, July 2, 1994, near Salmon, Idaho, as the result of accidental drowning.

Derrick was born Sept. 14, 1983, in Kalispell to Jack and Cheryl Ehmann. He had attended Libby public schools, where he had just completed fourth grade at McGrade Elementary School.

He had played soccer and also had performed with the Breakfast Club singing group. He had been a member of the Libby Christian Church Youth, where he had attended Sunday school.

Survivors include his parents,

Jack and Cheryl Ehmann of Libby; a half brother, Jack Ehmann of Colorado Springs, Colo.; his grandparents, Ernest and Shirley Ehmann of Cedar Ridge, Colo., and Bill and Mary Snook of Buena Vista, Colo.; and a great-grandmother, Madie Wrenfro of Wheat Ridge, Colo.

Visitation will be from 5-8 p.m. today at Nelson & Vial Funeral Home.

Services will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at Libby Christian Church, with the Rev. Charles Couch and the Rev. Charles Simmons officiating. Burial will be in City of Libby Cemetery.

Sept. 1994 Don M. Ellingson, 67

Don M. Ellingson, 67, died at his home in Catooso, Okla., after an extended illness with cancer.

Private burial services were held at Conrad Memorial Cemetery with the Rev. Larry Gaylord officiating.

He is survived at the family home by his wife, Margaret. His other surviving relatives include a daughter, Debbie, in Florida; sons, Bruce of Kalispell and Richard of Santa Barbara, Calif.; his sister, Gwen Mahoney of Littleton, Colo.; and his brother, Chet Ellingson of Kalispell.

Don was born in Seattle, Wash., but lived most of his youth in this area and graduated from Flathead High School. He then spent two years in the Navy in the Pacific Theatre. After finishing college in California he worked in Kalispell for Kelly Main Furniture and was an announcer for KGEZ.

He owned and operated a variety of businesses in Montana and the east coast during his working career.

Memorials may be made to the Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch, P.O. Box 80807, Billings, 59108.

1994 Grace Whittet Elliot, 95

Grace Whittet Elliot, 95, died Dec. 22, 1995, in Kalispell.

She was born in Redwood Falls, Minn., Feb. 25, 1899, to a world without electricity, automobiles, airplanes or television. Her mother encouraged her to learn the piano and continue her education. After graduating from college, Grace taught music in the public schools in rural Minnesota.

In 1927, she married Charles Elliott. In 1928, they moved to California where they sang in large choruses in Los Angeles and in local choirs. They raised their four daughters in San Gabriel and South Pasadena and were active members of Oneonta Congregational Church. She continued her music and extended her creative talents to include gardening, sewing, tailoring, needlework and floral arranging. In Pasadena, she taught sewing and tailoring in adult education courses.

In 1955, they moved to Salt Lake City. They were members of the Holaday United Church of Christ. For many years, she did the altar flowers and her circle regularly sent blankets, clothing and handmade layettes to an African mission.

Charlie died in 1976 and she moved to Sacramento, Calif., in 1981, to be near her children.

Because of the disabling effects of Parkinson's disease, she spent the last few years of her life in nursing homes. However, she never lost her wry sense of humor, her acute observations of people, or her zingy one-liners.

She is survived by three of her four daughters, Nancy MacDonald of Carmichael, Calif., Judith Spivey of Whitefish, and Ann Stuart of San Jose, Calif.; 11 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Her eldest daughter, Jean Ranson, died in 1982.

Grace, we miss you.

Her death was followed by cremation. In lieu of memorial services, the family requests that any memorial donations be made to the American Parkinson's Disease Association or to the donor's charity of choice.

Patricia Jean 'Pat' Emert, 47

Patricia Jean "Pat" Emert, 47, of Boise, Idaho, died peacefully, Friday, June 10, 1994, at her home.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 18, at Thomason Funeral Chapel in Weiser, Idaho. Burial followed at Hillcrest Cemetery.

Pat was born May 4, 1947, in Kalispell, the first of three children born to John and Laura Sherman Harrington. Pat was raised in Kalispell and graduated from Flathead High School in 1965.

Pat met, fell in love with, then married Ronald "Butch" Emert in July of 1967 in Kalispell while he was stationed with the Air Force.

From that point and until Ron's retirement, Pat was a loyal Air Force wife making a home for them at Ron's duty stations that included Mountain Home Air Force Base; Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii; McCord Air Force Base, Washington; And Hollaman Air Force Base, New Mexico and also waited patiently during two one-year duties in Korea.

Upon Ron's retirement in 1983, the couple moved to Boise, where Ron was employed by Goodman Oil and Pat worked at the station on Capitol Boulevard as a clerk.

Pat began a long and courageous battle with cancer in the summer of 1991. Her positive outlook and her faithful reliance on Jesus kept not only her own, but her family's spirits high. Her death came quietly and peacefully on Friday evening, and was marked by an unusually bright showing of the evening star, which each of her family members noted and cherished.

Pat loved to quilt and do other handiwork. She loved reading, discussing politics, and had a great love for her many nieces and nephews.

Survivors include her husband of 27 years, Ron, of Boise; her parents, John and Laura Harrington, of Kalispell; two sisters and brothers-in-law, Marcia and Lloyd Kelch, and Jane and Randy Horn, all of Montana; her in-laws, Ken and Lola Emert of Boise, Betty and Junior Benson of Burns, Ore., Dale and Dottie Emert and June and Frank Stirm, all of Weiser, Idaho, and Sandy and Art Shoemaker of Utah; and several loyal nieces and nephews.

The family suggests memorials be made in her name to Life's Doors Hospice, 1111 South Orchard St., 209-A P.O. Box 5754, Boise, Idaho 83705.
