George was born May 29, 1922, to John and Amy

Hallas in Butte. The family moved to Kellogg, Idaho, where his father worked in the mines. George spent the school year in Kellogg, and summers in Lima on a family ranch.

George and Linda continued to work on their farm with a never ending list of chores that needed to be done. Whether he was fencing or feeding livestock, haying or hauling logs, or on a covert mission for that new piece of equipment he had to have, he always found time for a cup of coffee with the gang at his favorite watering holes — Sykes' in Kalispell or The Nite Owl in Columbia Falls. He would go there to solve the problems of the world, create some new ones, and gossip about the person that did not show up for coffee that day.

As per his wishes, George moved into the Montana Veterans Home in 2006 where he could swap old war stories with his buddies and pinch a few nurses.

George is survived by his three sons, Gene of Columbia Falls, Ray of Columbia Falls, and Brian of Missoula; six grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren.

Denise May (Feaser) Hamilton, 55

Denise May (Feaser) Hamilton passed away peacefully at home on May 22, 2010, at the age of 55 after a short battle with cancer.

Born Aug. 5, 1954, in Maryland to John William Feaser and Dolores Wilderson Feaser, Denise could be considered a "wild child" as she was always getting into trouble with her black and gold Mustang. After graduating from Randallstown High School in 1972, Denise went to Arizona to visit long-time friend and 'sister' Helen.

In 1979, daughter Christina Marie was born. Denise was a devoted mom and sometimes worked two or three jobs to make ends meet.

After moving to Troy in 1996, Denise worked for Dr. Annie Bukachek as a receptionist. When Dr. Bukachek decided to relocate her practice, Denise then went to work for BTC Grocery Store and Panhandle State Bank in nearby Bonners Ferry, Idaho. In 1999, Denise met the man who would keep her on her toes, Jordan Kittleson.

November of 2000 brought Denise great pride when her grandson Jonathan William Hamilton was born. She was in the delivery room and even was tricked into cutting the cord.

Denise and Jordan moved to Columbia Falls in 2003 to be closer to Christina and Jonathan. In January 2003, Denise was hired at Super I Foods to be a checker at the new Columbia Falls location, which opened in March 2003. At the time of her cancer diagnosis, Denise was the only original cashier left from the store's opening. She was everyone's favorite cashier, and many customers often waited in long lines just to go through hers!

She is survived by daughter Christina Marie Hamilton-Smith and spouse Christopher Smith Jr.; cherished grandson Jonathan William Hamilton; devoted long-time love Jordan Kittleson, all of Columbia Falls; brother Craig William Feaser and spouse Debbie of Westminster Md.; "adopted sisters" Helen "Midge" Dickson of Elko, Nev., and Terri Cozad of Whitefish; nieces Stephanie Brown and Valerie Feaser of Westminster Md.; Cheri Irving and Tina Rittenhouse of Arizona; extended family Kristine Kittleson, Dawn, Tori, Breanna and Sean Opland of Troy, and Karla Kittleson of Washington.

Grace (Tibke) Hanson, 93

Grace (Tibke) Hanson, 93, of Kalispell and Cut Bank, "yielded the call by her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, to her eternal home," surrounded by her family, on Sept. 28, 2010, at Immanuel Lutheran Home in Kalispell, of natural causes.

Services are pending at this time and will be announced by the Whitted Funeral Chapel of Cut Bank.

Grace was born Dec. 1, 1916, to Jacob and Sena Tibke in Blackfoot, Idaho; she was the eighth of 10 children. While Grace was 5 years old, the family relocated from Blackfoot to the family ranch in Cascade. A country girl at heart, she loved riding her horse Gypsy, 4-H, school, friends, picnics and especially family.

While active in 4-H, Grace represented the state of Montana in Chicago at the National 4-H Convention. While in Chicago attending the National Convention, she was awarded National First Place in judging home furnishing, today called home interior decorating.

In the summer of 1934, her family relocated to Kalispell and continued to farm and ranch.

Grace often lamented about leaving Cascade just prior to her senior year. She affectionately told how the family's livestock and home furnishings were shipped via the railroad and unloaded at Rose Crossing in Helena Flats, just adjacent to the family farm. Her education was a priority and finishing high school a must; she recanted fond memories of driving the family Model A automobile to Flathead County High School to complete her senior year, graduating in 1935.

Grace began working for Mrs. Schweitzer as her personal assistant, and then later relocated to Choteau to work for Dr. E. Maynard at his office and hospital.

While employed with Dr. Maynard she met the love of her life, Henry Hanson.

Grace Tibke and Henry Hanson were married June 30, 1939, at the Pondera Valley Lutheran Church in Conrad. From this blessed union a beloved son, Charles, was born.

Together they farmed at Choteau and north of Cut

Bank. In 1950, they sold the land in Choteau and farmed full time in the Cut Bank area. Her devotion to the family farm continued until her death, active in the decisions of the family farm up to "the day Jesus Christ called her home."

She was dedicated to the family farm; more importantly, she was a devoted wife, mother and grandmother. She is "now eternally reunited with Henry," as he was suddenly taken from her in 1980, the result of a drunk driver.

Grace also worked for the Glacier County Library for eight years.

After her son graduated from high school, she and Henry spent 26 winters in Arizona. She was an avid traveler and ready to go at a moment's notice. She traveled to Europe, New Zealand and Australia, Central America sailing through the Panama Canal, three trips visiting the Caribbean Islands, and visited every state except Texas.

Grace was a Christian woman in every sense: Lived by faith, served others, and never uttered an unkind word; a constant follower of Christ. She was a member of the Cut Bank St. Paul Lutheran Church, Bible study and worship, Faith Circle, quilting ministry, Ladies Aid Society, food bank ministry, Thrivent for Lutherans, W.E.L.O., and the Cut Bank Women's Club.

Grace had a beautiful voice and loved to sing hymns and study God's word. Being a benevolent giver to countless Christian ministries, she also sponsored numerous children through Compassion International and World Vision. A cherished ministry that came full circle was to Immanuel Lutheran Home.

Grace relocated three years ago to Buffalo Hill Terrace, then in April of this year to Immanuel Lutheran Home in Kalispell.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry; parents, Jacob and Sena Tibke; brothers, Lester, Roland, Donald and Douglas; and sisters, Bernice, Margaret, Mayme and Juanita.

Surviving Grace are her son, Charles; "daughter-in-love," Denise; her prized grandchildren, Bailey Joseph and Christyne Danae; and her baby sister, Betty Held, all of Kalispell and Cut Bank; and several nieces and nephews.

Shopping was one of her favorite activities and she could never pass up a good bargain.

She enjoyed traveling and visiting family around the country. Her children and grandchildren brought her a lot of pride with all of their accomplishments over the years. In her later years as she watched TV or read she would always have her faithful companion Oliver, the family poodle, on her lap. She enjoyed staying well informed with current news events and was especially interested in politics.

She was very generous and was concerned with the welfare of others. Recently, she made contributions to have water wells drilled in two Philippine Island villages, so that the people could have clean drinking water.

Misao had a very strong faith in God and was a devout member of the church. We are all saddened that she is no longer with us, but take comfort in knowing that she is in heaven.

He remained faithful to God Jehovah to the end, and we look forward to seeing him again in the Resurrection.

Robert 'Bob' Harvey, 84

On Thursday, Aug. 5, 2010, three years to the day after Mom left us, "looking out into a beautiful summer day with 'Happy Trails' playing in the background, Dad swung up on Prince and rode off to the other side."

Robert "Bob" Harvey was born Jan. 10, 1926, in Gleason, Wis., the sixth of eight children born to Fred and Gertrude Harvey. In October of that year, the family moved to Bainville to be closer to family. He started school at the Harvey School and went through the eighth grade in Dixon. He later attended Flathead County High School. In 1943, he began a 60-year career raising and selling Christmas trees. In 1945, the family moved to the West Valley area, and he took over the family farming when his father's health began to fail. In 1951, he married an east coast city girl, Katherine Willaman. With Bob on his beloved Prince and Kathy on Little Joe, they enjoyed competing in O-Mok-Sees around the area. They had three children, Gail, Rick, and Sara, and raised them in the West Valley area. He farmed, ranched and raised Christmas trees for 60 years, until his health just wouldn't let him anymore.

He was the last remaining charter member of the Flathead County Sheriff's Posse. He was involved in the posse as long as he was able, and it was a source of great pride for him. In the 1950s he rode in the Calgary Stampede with the posse. He carried many a flag in the parades around the valley. He worked at the fair and enjoyed doing security at the local football games. He enjoyed visiting Syke's, sitting with people from all walks of life and solving the world's problems over ten-cent coffee.

Family was extremely important to dad. He worried about them, looked after them and loved having everyone together. A family gathering, complete with a rendition of Dunderbeck, was about as good as it could get for him. It is believed that he was happiest out riding his horse on a sunny day, checking his cows. He looked forward to the first baby calf of spring and raised about every other sort of farm animal there was, at one time or another.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his wife, Kathy; six of his brothers and sisters; a son-in-law; two nieces; and a nephew.

He is survived by his children, Rick of Billings, Gail Drew and her husband, Bruce of Kalispell, Sara Martin and her husband, Tony of Kalispell; and two grandsons that he was absolutely devoted to, Bret Martin of Williston, N.D., and Randy Martin of Kalispell. He was "Uncle Bob" to too many nieces and nephews and their families to count.

He loved us all. While his absence creates a great void, he leaves a legacy of devotion to family. "Hang and rattle, Dad!"

A celebration of Bob's life will be held at 11 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 9, at the Stillwater Free Lutheran Church. The family suggests memorial contributions be made to the Immanuel Lutheran Home, Recreation Dept., 185 Crestline Ave., Kalispell, MT 59901; or to the Flathead County Sheriff's Posse. During her years of schooling, Mandi found joy and love by accepting a relationship with God. She spent the majority of her time with the youth group of the Christian Center, pouring herself into singing, drama and having fun. Each day of Mandi's life was completely filled to the fullest, and equaled a year for a day. She was able to obtain the life experiences and wisdom that we all so long for in the short time she was here. In God's eyes, she had reached perfection. Her life was a celebration for God, and we would like her death to be as well.

In 1970 he managed the SkyAir Ranch owned by George and Hank Galpin. During those years he gathered together a dogsled team. His 19-day trip to the Chinese Wall in the Bob Marshall Wilderness was filmed and was one of Art's treasured possessions.

He married Jan Sievers in 1996 and, after their divorce later that year, they continued working and penning together.

By 2001 it was time to "hang up his rope and saddle." In the years following he enjoyed his friends at Syke's, where he got reacquainted with and later married Florence Wood in 2005.

Art was honest, resourceful, soft-spoken and hard-working, a lover of nature and animals ... he will be missed.

He was preceded in death by his dad and mother; and brother, Harvey.

He is survived by his wife, Florence, and her family; his sister, Lola Brenneman, and husband, Delbert, of New Auburn, Wis.; a nephew, Steve Smith; and niece, Sheryl.

Funeral services for Art will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 11, at Stillwater Lutheran Church with Pastor Tim Bartholomew officiating. Visitation will be from noon to 6 p.m. today, Aug. 10, at Johnson-Gloschat Funeral Home. Burial will follow services at C.E. Conrad Memorial Cemetery.

He was preceded in death by his father; his second father, Bruce E. Pyles; and his brother, Russell E. Pyles.

Joyce and Bruce were married in 1957, and the small family spent the first two summers of their life together at Big Prairie in the Bob Marshall Wilderness, where Larry's love of "The Bob" was born. Through the following 10 years, Larry was joined by a brother and three sisters. He attended school in Kalispell at Cornelius Hedges until the spring of 1967, when the family moved to Oregon. Larry attended two different high schools in Oregon, graduating from Union High School in 1974.

After a short stint as a college student at Eastern Oregon State College in La Grande, he returned to Kalispell. He worked in the logging industry off and on in both Montana and Alaska. He loved Alaska and returned there several times over the years, working for loggers, on the pipeline, and on a commercial fishing boat. He was married for some time during those years. He and his wife owned and operated Imperial Outfitters, guiding hunters and fishermen in the Bob Marshall Wilderness. The marriage ended and the business was subsequently sold.

Larry loved horses and the outdoors; hunting, fishing, team roping, team penning and skiing were some of his favorite activities. Wherever he went, he always made friends. Larry never knew a stranger. He even made friends with some grizzly bears and enjoyed going to the bear park to play with them before they got too big.

Larry is survived by his mother, Joyce Pyles of Columbia Falls; sisters, Laurie Pein and Joe of Columbia Falls, Carole Karberg and Dan of Eureka, Marie Hougesson and Frank of Battle Ground, Wash.; nieces, Amanda Treat and Hal of Columbia Falls, Aimee Moriarty and Todd of Columbia Falls, Andrea Briggs of La Grande, Ore., nephews, Russell Briggs of Columbia Falls, Brian Aster and Steven Hougesson of Battle Ground, Wash.; uncle Keith McNeil and Marie of Kalispell; aunt, Carol Williams of Kalispell; assorted grandnieces and nephew; and his very special friend, Debbie Brekke and her son, Ryan, of Kalispell. He also leaves behind his constant companion, "Obie," who is now the official greeter at North Valley Ag Center.

A memorial gathering and celebration of Larry's life will be held, potluck style, beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 5, at Woodland Park in Kalispell.

Blake Michael Hendrick, 60

Blake Michael Hendrick, 60, passed away quietly in his sleep in the early morning hours of Feb. 10, 2010, at his home, with his wife and daughter at his bedside.

Blake was born to Daniel L. and Margie L. (Eicher) Hendrick in Boulder, Colo., Jan. 29, 1950, where he grew up and excelled in sports. His Little League All-Star baseball team was one win away from going to the Little League World Series. He played football, basketball and baseball for Fairview High School (and played for the state championship in football in 1967), and was honored with many All-State team awards.

Blake then attended the United States Air Force Academy where he played football and baseball and later served his country in Korea. After leaving the Air Force, Blake became a contracting officer and worked for the Department of Defense and later for the USDA Forest Service.

In 1977, Blake married Shirley Ann McKown and they made their home in Mountain Home, Idaho, where their daughter, Kara Ann, was born in 1980. Travis Ryan joined the family in 1981 in Olympia, Wash., while Blake was working for the Olympic National Forest. In 1989, Blake and his family moved to the Okanogan Valley in north central Washington to work for the Okanogan National Forest, where they lived on a 10-acre farm, raising steers, alfalfa hay, and a large garden. Blake coached Travis's Little League All-Star team to the state tournament, which it hadn't been to in nearly 25 years.

As both kids were attending college, Blake and Shirley moved to Kalispell to work for the Flathead National Forest. Blake retired in 2005 so that he could spend more time on the golf course and on plans to build their "dream home." In 2006, the new home was built, and in 2007, both kids were married (five weeks apart), Kara to Bill Lamb of Spokane, and Travis to Ashley Jeffris of Peshastin, Wash. In 2008 and 2009, Blake was teaching contract law classes to government agencies through NPI, Inc.

(Edmonds, Wash.), and doing quite a bit of traveling. Future trips in 2010 were to have Shirley tag along for some sightseeing.

In August 2009, Blake's first grandchild, Autry Londyn, was born in Las Vegas to Travis and Ashley, and he and Shirley were there to enjoy her. A few days after returning home, Blake was diagnosed with a brain tumor, which had been causing memory problems. Surgery was not an option so the prognosis was four to eight months of remaining life. After routine radiation and initial chemo treatments, Blake died on Feb. 10. He will be cremated and buried at a later time in Spokane Memorial Gardens Cemetery near Spokane.

Blake is survived by immediate family mentioned above, as well as his mother, Margie Hendrick, of Boulder; father, Dan Hendrick, and stepmother, Arlene, of Columbia Falls; brother, Dan Hendrick, and wife, Sue, of Niwot, Colo., and their children, Jenny and Matt; sister, Jana McCarter, of Kerrville, Texas, and her children, Kelly and Jake; an extensive step-family; and many aunts, uncles and cousins spread around the country.

Blake was known for his great sense of humor, his fairness with everyone he worked with, his love of the game of golf (especially his 7 iron), and most of all, for the love of his family.

A celebration of Blake's life will be held at 2 p.m. on Feb. 20, at the Hilton Garden Inn in Kalispell.

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations go to benefit Home Options Hospice, Kalispell, in Blake's memory, or the United States Air Force Academy, where checks should be written to The Air Force Academy Fund in memory of graduate Blake Hendrick '72 and mailed to the USAFA Endowment, 3316 Academy Drive, Suite 200, USAF Academy, CO 80840-4475. Cards can be mailed to the family at 10 Strawberry View Lane, Kalispell, MT 59901.

If you plan to attend the celebration, we ask that you bring your favorite stories to share about Blake and a packet of wildflower seeds that will be used to make a memorial garden.
