"Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light." Matthew 11:25-30

Jason was a dedicated triathlete, having completed eight full Ironman races and 10 Half Ironman races. He participated in events all over the country as well as internationally, including Canada, Cozumel and Cabo, Mexico, and Nice, France. Jason qualified for the World Championship 70.3 twice and earned the highest honor of becoming one of the top 1 percent of athletes earning Gold All World Athlete status. What was most inspiring for Jason in every experience was the support, love and attendance of his family at each event when he crossed the finished line. Since the age of 14, Jason had a dream to be the best physical therapist he could be and wanted to open his own physical therapy clinic. Jason achieved this goal in 2010 by opening Falcon Physical Therapy in Bellevue, Wash., and worked happily every day alongside his sister, Erin, as his assistant.

Jason's biggest love in life, his son, was brought

Jason Wayne Falcon, 34

"Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

Jason "was taken into the Lord's hands and risen into heaven" on Sunday, July 27, 2014. He was 34 years old.

Jason was born in Glasgow on Jan. 16, 1980, to his loving parents, Denny and Bev. He joined an older sister, Jennifer, and later was joined by his younger sister and best friend, Erin. Growing up raising quarter horses with his family, he took pride in being part of Falcon Quarter Horses and participated in showing events throughout the nation, including his most prized achievement of becoming the first youth from Montana to win the 1992 American Junior Quarter Horse Association (AJQHA) World Championship, at the age of 12.

Jason attended elementary and junior high school in Glasgow before his family eventually relocated to Bainville, Mont., where Jason graduated as valedictorian of his class in 1999.

Jason attended the University of Mary and graduated in 2004 with a Master's in Physical Therapy degree. He then went on to earn his Doctorate of Manual Therapy degree at the Ola Grimsby Institute in San Diego, in 2008. Along the way Jason believed in the importance of continued education and received certification as a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS), certified bike fit pro, trained triathlon coach and most recently, was certified in mechanical diagnosis and therapy (Cert. MDT).

into his world on May 15, 2013. Crew James Falcon was the son Jason always dreamed he would have and wanted him to have the best in life, just like he felt he had.

Jason adored his family, including his nephews Tyler and Alex. He loved them, was inspired by them, learned from them and held them so close to his heart. Jason pushed himself every day to be the best son, brother, father and uncle he could possibly be, as well as the best physical therapist and triathlete. He was so strong — a standout athlete.

Jason means "Healer" and indeed he was. He used his hands to treat patients, but he was a healer in far greater ways by touching people's hearts and passions and changing their lives. Everyone who knew him would describe him as the most caring, loving individual and he strived every day to put forward his very best. Jason's most recognizable trait was his big smile and he would light up any room he entered. He always put God and family above everything else and, although he will be missed every day, "we know that he is smiling in heaven and watching over us, continuing to 'heal' us all."

Andrew Ray Jackson 'Red' Farris, 83

Andrew Ray Jackson "Red" Farris was born Nov. 24, 1930, to Ruben Ray Farris and Addie Bell Mooneyham Farris in Waller, Texas, and passed from our lives June 23, 2014, at age 83.

At the tender age of 14 he struck out from the family dairy farm to see the world, and boy did he see it! After a few years in the college of hard knocks and a stint in the Army, he married the love of his life, Betty Jean Kahn — he truly loved her until the day he died.

Together they had three children, Lynn and Mike Vollmer, Patrick, and Bettina and Gary Smigaj, and were blessed with five grandchildren, Colby and Kate, Martin Andrew, Kjelseh, Katelyn and Andrew. He taught them all the value of work, the importance of integrity and the power of love. He was so very proud of them all.

When Betty brought him home to visit he fell in love with the Flathead and said, "Let's stay." He began a decades-long association with Buttrey Foods that took the family to Cut Bank, Pocatello, Idaho and Billings. He purchased his own store in Great Falls and ultimately retired to the Flathead where he raised animals — cows, chickens, ducks and even a mule named Matilda.

Near the end of his life he was able to tell his children that he had accomplished all he had set out to do and was happy with his life. He was able to travel and enjoyed spending winters in California and Arizona and especially fishing in Texas with friends Ruby, Murland, Oscar and the rest of the fishing crew, while watching his kids and grandkids enjoy Bitterroot Lake in the summers.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Addie and Ruben Farris; brothers, Travis, John and Lewis Farris; and sister, Ruby.

He is survived by Betty and their three children and five grandchildren; sisters, Kay Adams of Dallas and Sue Laposki of Spring, Texas; and numerous nieces and nephews who will all miss him very much.

There will be a viewing from 6 to 8 p.m. Thursday, June 26, at Buffalo Hill Funeral Home. A graveside service will take place at 2 p.m. Friday, June 27, at C.E. Conrad Memorial Cemetery in Kalispell with Pastor Ron Pierce officiating. A reception for family and friends will follow at Red's home.

Patricia Lynn Johnson Faustini, 64

Patricia Lynn Johnson Faustini was born April 4, 1950, to Richard and Irene Johnson and raised in Columbus, Ohio, along with her favorite brother, Rick.

On Nov. 20, 2014, Patti died at home "and entered heaven, lovingly supported by her beloved daughter and husband."

A lifelong Buckeye fan, Patti graduated from Ohio State University with a teaching degree, which became a major lifetime passion. She enjoyed her years in various classroom settings and excelled at making learning exciting, meaningful and enjoyable for her students.

Upon graduation from college, Patti began a lifetime of travel. Fearlessly cruising in a VW bug by herself, she drove several times from Ohio to California and back, just for fun. Soon she added Montana to the circuit. Later, she would travel to Mexico, Costa Rica, Spain and Italy, including leading student groups throughout Europe, and a church group to Israel. Patti loved the excitement and newness of travel, and encouraged her daughter and students to explore the world.

In 1980, she married Jim McIntyre and with him, adopted the joys of her life, her beautiful children, Kimberly May and Jeremy James McIntyre. She was a devoted and nurturing mother and the ultimate holiday lover with her kids. Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving were always a magical time in her home.

Throughout her life, Patti had many dear and wonderful friends, but her longtime best friend, Donna Taylor, was truly as close as any sister could be. They shared every success and disappointment over the years and were godmothers to each other's children — All the more love and blessing to share through their children.

Patti married Renato "Ray" Faustini on July

24, 2008. They retired to Arizona, traveling the West in their RV before deciding retirement was just not exciting enough. They came home to Whitefish and Patti returned to teaching once again, loving each and every day with her students at Muldown Elementary.

Patti was deeply loved by her family at Christ Lutheran Church in Whitefish. She especially enjoyed the Bible study groups she organized and facilitated. Pastor John and Grace Bent were her precious and close friends.

Patti is survived by her beloved husband, Renato Faustini; mother, Irene Johnson, of Lake Havasu, Ariz.; daughter, Kimberly McIntyre and son Jeremy McIntyre, both of Whitefish; granddaughter, Leah Marie Faith McIntyre; brother and sister-in-law, Rick and Cindy Johnson, of Malibu, Calif.; nephews, Richie, Philip and Jeremy Johnson, of California; stepchildren, Branson Faustini, Nicole Faustini and Danielle Dickman; and godchildren, Taylor, Lindsey Patricia (her namesake) and Carly Schwickert.

A celebration of life will be held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 2, at Christ Lutheran Church, 5150 River Lakes Pkwy., Whitefish.

"Goodbye is a part of life. It's a very important word to say clearly, gratefully, even tearfully. But it is not the last word in God's vocabulary. Ever. We love you, Patti, and we will see you again in heaven."

Memorials to honor our beloved Patti can be made to Christ Lutheran Church Deacon's Fund (which assists local people in need) and Children of Kathmandu (provides education, healthcare and adequate living conditions for needy children in Nepal) at 3801 Spruce Meadow Drive, Bozeman, MT 59718.

Clyde Montana Fauley, 89

Clyde Montana Fauley passed away peacefully in the early morning hours of Jan. 29, 2014, at the Montana Veterans Home in Columbia Falls, with a caring nurse and two special nurses' aides holding his hands and saying a prayer for him. The cause of death was age-related illnesses.

He was born on March 27, 1924, to Clyde C. and Marie (Fratzke) Fauley at the home of Grandma Fredenberg, a midwife, in Kalispell.

When Clyde was a week old he and his mother went by train to an area between Nyack and Essex where they were met by his father. His father then took them in a cable bucket across the Middle Fork of the Flathead River to the Paola Ranger Station in Glacier National Park where his father was a ranger. The family then transferred to the Two Medicine Ranger Station in 1928. From the summer of 1929 until the spring of 1931 they were at the Nyack Ranger Station. They then moved back to Two Medicine where they lived year-round until time for the children to start school. They then moved to East Glacier Park where he went to grade school. In 1938, his father resigned from the Park Service and they moved to a ranch at Spotted Robe between East Glacier and Browning. Clyde attended high school in Browning and stayed at the Indian dormitory, graduating from there in 1942.

During World War II Clyde was a bombardier gunner on a B-24 Libera-tor Bomber with the 8th Air Force based in England. The plane and crew were shot down over France in enemy territory nine days after D-Day, but eventually were able to make it back to England.

Following the war, he attended the University of Montana on a G.I. Bill of Rights and received a B.S. Degree in forestry in 1950. The years from 1946 to 1958 were spent as a seasonal park ranger, on foreign construction, and many other jobs, including the railroad and Glacier Park Transportation Company. He worked under two 9-month contracts on air base construction in the Arctic in Greenland during 1954 and 1955. During 1957 and 1958, he worked on construction in Alaska at the Elmendorf Air Base out of Anchorage.

Clyde then became a permanent employee with the National Park Service in Yosemite National Park in 1959, where he was a forestry crew foreman, and was later promoted to assistant park forester.

In 1960, he married Rae Marie Price, who grew up in Apgar and was the daughter of Glacier National Park road foreman Ray Price and wife, Dorothy. She was a permanent employee in Glacier at the time of their marriage, and then moved to Yosemite where she worked seasonally. While in Yosemite, Clyde was assigned to guard President John Kennedy's door while he stayed at the Ahwahnee Hotel in August of 1962. In January of 1965, they were transferred to Crater Lake National Park. Clyde was a district ranger at Crater Lake. In July of 1966, Clyde accepted a promotion to Grand Canyon National Park as the Forestry and Fire Control Officer and was also the Park Safety Officer. They lived there until the spring of 1971, when Clyde happily accepted a transfer and promotion to Glacier National Park and they moved back home to Montana. They first moved to East Glacier Park where Clyde was the district manager for the east side of the Park. In 1974, he was moved to Park Headquarters at West Glacier where he was the resources management specialist. He was responsible for forest fire, bear and other natural resources management, as well as addressing outside influences. He prepared the "Threats to the National Parks" report for Glacier in 1980, resulting in Glacier receiving national recognition as the most threatened park from outside influences. From 1982 to 1983, he was the park wilderness specialist. Also, from 1971 to 1975, he was fire boss on an Inter-Agency Forest Fire Overhead Team subject to dispatch out of the Western Inter-Agency Fire Center in Boise. He and his team were dispatched to large project forest and range fires in Alaska, Utah, Nevada and Montana. Other large fire experience included California, Washington and the 1967 fire in Glacier.

On April 29, 1983, Clyde retired from the National Park Service with 33 years of federal service (three years military) and spent his last day on the job as acting superintendent of Glacier National Park. On July 14, 1983, he was presented the Department of the Interior's Meritorious Service Award by Secretary of the Interior James Watt in person. Secretary Watt was in the park for the 50th Anniversary of the Going-to-the-Sun Road.

After retirement Clyde filled his time with reading, gardening, karaoke and daily hikes to the post office with his Norwegian Elkhounds. He had a great love for all animals. At the Veterans Home he always looked forward to visits from friends and family and his dog. He opened his eyes for the last time when he received a gentle little nudge from his beloved dog, Bear.

He was preceded in death by his parents; and a nephew, Collin Fauley.

He is survived by his wife, Rae Marie of Lakeside; brother, Carlyle Fauley and wife, Theresa, of Lakeside; brother, Howard Fauley and wife, Eve, of St. Maries, Idaho; and a sister, Alice Peterson of Libby. He is also survived by nephews, Kenny and Larry Peterson, and Chuck Fauley, and nieces, Honora Burns and Tammy Fauley, as well as his wife's niece, Jeanne Price, and her two nephews, Ray and Will Price.

The family wishes to thank the staff at the Montana Veterans Home for all the wonderful kind care they have given Clyde for the past four years.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to the Lakeside Community Chapel, Montana Veterans Home or a local animal shelter.

Visitation will be from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Monday, Feb. 3 at Buffalo Hill Funeral Home. Celebration of life services will be at 11 a.m. Monday at the Lakeside Community Chapel in Lakeside. Burial will follow at the C.E. Conrad Memorial Cemetery.

June Munski-Feenan, 86

On Jan. 21, 2014, Whitefish lost one of its lights as June Munski-Feenan "slipped peacefully from this world to the next" surrounded by her family.

Born on June 23, 1927, as Eleanor June Wood, she was raised in Columbia Falls in a family of eight children. She grew up on the family farm, graduated high school, and attended Mrs. Bemis' business school.

She then met and married her first husband, Walt Munski, on May 1, 1946. They had three daughters, Ginger, Nicolette and Darlene. After Walt passed away in 1987, she dedicated her life to others and later was reunited with a childhood friend. She married Robert Feenan on July 17, 1993, and the two enjoyed their golden years together.

June embodied the spirit of giving. The way she lived her life every day was with her hands open, giving generously of herself, her time, her money, of anything she had to help someone else in need. She would give you the shirt off her back without giving it a second thought.

Her heart was full of compassion and always happiest when she was able to help others. She wanted to make a difference in her community. We, her family, are so thankful to God for letting us have her for 86 years. What a blessing to have had her as wife, mother and grandmother. We have had her love, her pearls of wisdom she taught along the way and her example of how to walk through this life making each day count.

What started from a few loaves of bread under a Christmas tree, blossomed into her founding the North Valley Food Bank which she ran out of her garage. When her first husband Walt Munski passed away, she used her grief by throwing herself into the mission of feeding the hungry, which became her passion for the next 37 years. Some of the board members at the food bank refer to her with a deep respect and admiration as the "Mother Teresa of Whitefish." Within the last year she was able to see the new building completed. Now they are geared up to help many more in the years to come. Her legacy will live on not only in her family, but through the food bank as well.

She leaves behind her husband, Bob; three daughters, Ginger Theisen and Dennis, Nikki Ward and Elmer, and Darlene Benson; five granddaughters, Sandy Anderson and Jason, Deborah Hurtado and Gil, Melissa Ohs and Jason, Samantha Flink and Ron, and Katrina Bell and Bob; and 13 great-grandchildren, Koby, Annie, Kaleb, Sophie, Josiah, Isaiah, Kiley, Kaitlyn, Zack, Mimi, and Britton, Shanna and Lilee.

There will be a huge hole in our hearts as we mourn losing such a remarkable woman in our lives. However, a piece of her will live through us all. We believe the best way to honor her is to do what she did so effortlessly, her own way of paying it forward. In memory of her, we encourage all of you to pay it forward to someone else or volunteer your time somewhere and make a difference in your community.

She lovingly opened her home for many beloved family members. She was a "natural caregiver" and walked with them through their final days here on this earth. Being able to take care of her mother in her home for a number of years before she died was one of her greatest satisfactions.

We also understand she had so much to give it could not be contained within our own family, but flowed out to so many whose lives she touched. She even took a young man named Albert Pete under her wing and shared with him what a home filled with love and family was.

Her optimism and enthusiasm were contagious! Growing up, she taught us about a strong faith in God, perseverance through the trials in life that will come and the power of a positive attitude. We were not allowed to say the words "I can't" but instead, "Try and try again because practice makes perfect!" After all, the only way to lose is to quit.

She has made a difference not only in the lives of those closest to her, but her community has recognized her in many ways through awards like First Lady of Whitefish, the Big Fish Award, the Soroptomist Award, the Spirit of Whitefish, Hometown Hero and others.

"The moment she passed from this life to the next, we are sure there was a great celebration in heaven and imagine her lord Jesus telling her these words, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.'"

We wanted to thank hospice for all their love, compassion and direction in helping June in her final time here.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to the North Valley Food Bank or hospice. A funeral Mass will take place at 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 1, at St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church. A rosary will also be at the church the night before, at 6:30 p.m. A celebration of June's life will be at the Whitefish Moose Lodge directly after the funeral service. Interment will take place at a later date.

You are invited to go to www.austinfh.com to offer condolence, share memories and view June's tribute wall.

Arrangements are entrusted to Austin Funeral Home.

I'm Free

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free

I'm following the path God laid for me

I took his hand when I heard him call

I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day

To laugh, to love, to work, or play

Take it and one must stay that way

I found that peace at close of day.

If my parting has left a void

Then fill it with remembered joy.

A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss

Ah yes, these things I too will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow

I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow

My life's been full, I've savored much —

Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch

Perhaps my time seemed all too brief

Don't lengthen it now with undue grief

Lift up your hearts and share with me —

God wanted me now: He set me free ...

Myron Kenneth 'MK,' 'Mike' Felt, 86

Myron Kenneth "MK," "Mike" Felt "passed into the night" on Nov. 19, 2014.

He was born in Wakefield, Neb., on Aug. 20, 1928, to Anna Froid Felt and Arthur Levi Felt. He was the youngest in a family of four sons brought up at home in a Christian environment. Raised on a farm, Mike learned from the time he could walk how to work hard. He lived in Nebraska, attended Wakefield High School, and then enlisted and proudly served in the Marine Corps.

Mike moved to Great Falls in the early 1950s, while working for the Home Insurance Company. He was introduced to the love of his life, Patty Lou Christensen, in 1955 by her father, a competitor of Mike's in the insurance industry. When Mike finally got his courage up to ask Patty out, they never looked back.

Mike and Patty had two beloved children, Stephen Mathew and Nancy Ann, both born in Great Falls. Mike started Crop Hail Management and built it into the largest crop insurance managing general agency in the United States. In the early '80s Mike created National Flood. One of Mike's most notable achievements was to help garner Congressional support for the passage of the Federal Crop Insurance Act of 1980. He led the formation of the American Association of Crop Insurers, and served as its first chairman for several years. Today it stands as the most important farm program in America and is being emulated in countries around the world.

contributing to the community of Bigfork. Mike had a sharp business acumen and served on many local and national boards.

He was a leader in the community, a mentor to many and known for his giant, healing hugs. Mike and Patty were active members of the Bethany Lutheran Church in Bigfork. He took great pride in attending the local Dirt Bags. He loved the lake, hiking and Glacier Park. Mike enjoyed skiing until the year he and Patty both broke their legs on King's Hill. Of course, he was known as a golfer, famous for his hole-in-one that cost him five shots.

Besides being an avid fan, he was an armchair offensive coordinator for the San Francisco 49ers.

Mike adored his children, but his grandchildren filled his life with joy. He made certain they all knew he loved them, and how important each one was to him. All of Mike's children and grandchildren attended Bigfork High School. His family has created a Scholarship Fund in his memory.

Mike is survived by his beloved wife, Patty Lou; his daughter Nancy Felt Mahlum, son-in-law Doug Mahlum, grandsons, Bridger Loyd and Colter Paul; his son Stephen Felt, daughter-in-law Jana Felt, granddaughters Sadie Lou and Hadley Kay, grandson Michael Levi Felt, Levi's mother, Mary Felt Revercomb; and his nieces and nephews to whom he was a hero. In addition, he leaves behind many, many friends who will miss him dearly.

While living in Great Falls, Mike and Patty discovered Flathead Lake and the village of Bigfork. In 1963 they purchased a house on the East Shore and the dream began. After spending their summers on the lake, they decided to make it their full-time home in 1968. Mike always had the spirit of an entrepreneur and as he drove through the farms on Holt Drive, he envisioned a golf course there. And so, in 1979 he took the first steps to achieving that dream and purchased the land that would later become the first nine holes of Eagle Bend Golf Course. He and Patty taught their children generosity by often participating and

Cara Lee (Thomas Maureen) Foley, 78

Sister Cara Lee (Thomas Maureen) Foley, of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, died April 28, 2014, at Brookdale Place at Harbor Glen in Spokane.

Cara Lee was born March 12, 1936, in Spirit Lake, Idaho, daughter of Thomas F. and Margaret C. Bubb Foley. Her mother died in 1945, leaving Cara Lee and her two sisters. Her father married again, and their blended family eventually numbered nine siblings. Cara Lee was very fond of her stepmother. She attended school in Spirit Lake and Columbia Falls until transferring to Holy Names Academy as a boarder for her final two years of high school, graduating in 1954.

She joined the Sisters of the Holy Names that year and began her college education. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in chemistry and Theology from Marylhurst College, and a Master of Arts degree and a doctorate in sacred doctrine from St. Mary's Notre Dame. Her ministries were mostly at the college level in both teaching and administration at Fort Wright College and Carroll College. She was selected for leadership in her religious community from 1992 to 1996, after which she returned to Carroll College. She also served as an English as a second language instructor at Heritage College for a short time.

Sister Cara Lee loved to be of service. She was competent in so many areas, from administration to baking to gardening and sewing to creating prayer services and environments. Her leadership qualities were evident even in her high school years as she was senior class president, National Honor Society president valedictorian, and on the yearbook staff, and those qualities served her well throughout her life. Although she liked to skate, swim and walk for team sports, she preferred to keep score.

and liturgies, and also with the Spokane Chorale. She responded to music to the end of her life, even if only with her feet!

By the year 2000, it was clear that her health would limit her ministries and her life significantly. She retired to the convent in Spokane when her need for support increased. Although she lived with Alzheimer's disease for nearly 15 years, she continued to be gracious, gentle and beautiful, and her desire to be of service lasted as long as her ability to walk. Cara Lee never failed to respond to people who spoke with her, even if only to blink. For as long as she could, Cara Lee went to the family resort in Martin City to assist during the summer months, cleaning cabins and making beds, and spending time with her stepmother and sisters.

Cara Lee was the eldest of nine children, one of whom has predeceased her. Her siblings are Mary Elizabeth Ban of Martin City, Hugh Foley and Birgit of Eugene, Ore., Margaret Harkins and Jim of Martin City, Marion Foley of Martin City, Rosemary Mattick and Ed Casey Seattle, Doyle Foley and Ginny of Martin City, and Kate Foley and John Helton of Martin City. She is also survived by numerous nieces and nephews.

Cara Lee was predeceased by her parents, Thomas and Margaret Foley; a brother, Thomas Murphy Foley; and her stepmother, Edna Rose Foley.

Mass of Resurrection was on May 2 at Convent of the Holy Names in Spokane.

Cara Lee was every bit a musician; her instrument was her voice! She sang so beautifully for community celebrations

Les was the youngest of four boys born to the Foy family in Kalispell on Oct. 22, 1929.

He graduated Flathead County High School in 1949, qualified that fall for the National Ski Championships, but in January of 1951 joined the Navy serving in the Korean War. He served on destroyers, then an alpine ski instructor on Kodiak Island for more than two years.

Les loved to dance and met his wife Neva at the USO in Seaside, Oregon, where she worked. They were married March 29, 1954.

He played the trumpet in high school, the Navy and in more bands than we can remember. He was a longtime 4-H leader, taking a lot of kids camping and traveling in the Western states. He was a Batavia School board member and taught Little League baseball for years.

Les worked many years, off and on, helping his brother Bus at the Foy's Tire Shop. He delivered
